EDUCATION

2017 Medieval culture studies | UB

2014 Humanities | UPF

He is passionate about cultural heritage, which he considers a visual witness of our past. For this reason, he uses his academic knowledge of social science subjects applied to the documentary researches of Riosta Barcelona. He is also a cultural guide, a task within which he passionately shares his knowledge.

He considers accuracy, critical thinking and responsibility essential elements in cultural outreach. He has also followed these same values in the documentary research he has carried out with several institutions. He has worked with Universitat Pompeu Fabra as a superior research technician in the project "Translations of Dante, Ausàs March and Góngora". He has collaborated with the Institució Milà I Fontanals and the Centre Investigació en Humanitats - CSIC in the study of the courts in Aragon in the middle ages.
